by AH PRODUCTION

Product: Dalhem Ribba Walls in Oak, Maple and RAL 9010

Architect: Jestico & Whiles

Contractor: Willmott Dixon Interiors

Project: Lincoln's Inn Fields, London School of Economics

LSA are very proud to have supplied over 4,500 linear metres of DALHEM Ribba System® to this stunning new area of the London School of Economics built by Willmott Dixon Interiors.

Opened earlier this year 32 Lincoln's Inn Fields is the newest acquisition of the London School of Economics, designed by Jestico & Whiles, it houses lecture theatres for various educational fields covered by the university as well as study rooms, computer suites and seminar classrooms.

Dalhem's product has been supplied for use in both lecture theatres and the break out communal areas of the redevelopment giving a clean, light and warm atmosphere to the areas in which it has been used.

This project uses Maple, Oak and RAL 9010 veneers, on 22mm high ribs with 17mm gaps; this arrangement gives great acoustic properties without sacrificing a stylish and sharp result.
